Why Train to be a Mindfulness Teacher?

The demand for mindfulness teachers has grown enormously in the past decade. Qualified mindfulness teachers are needed for one-to-one support, teaching groups, working in healthcare and education settings and supporting people in organisations of all kinds.

Mindfulness teachers come from many walks of life, including talking and physical therapists, healthcare professionals and practitioners, yoga and other movement-based teachers, educators, creative artists, coaches, corporate managers and employees, and those who are retraining for a completely new career.

Many people are drawn to mindfulness teaching because of the benefits they have personally obtained from the practice. Learning mindfulness can be life changing and being able to teach it to others is a hugely rewarding experience.

Mindfulness Now Certified Teacher Training Course

The Mindfulness Now course is our most popular course, approved by the British Psychological Society. It is one of the 4 modules on the MBCH Diploma.

It can also be taken as a stand-alone course, which will certify you to teach mindfulness to individuals, groups, children and in organisations.

Why Train to be a Hypno-Psychotherapist?

The need for psychotherapy has never been greater. Clinical mental health services are stretched well beyond capacity and waiting lists for counselling, cognitive behavioural therapy and other forms of psychotherapy are huge. Individuals are increasingly turning to private practice to get the support they need.

Hypnotherapy training is the fastest route to you being able to offer psychotherapy support to private clients. Initial training can be completed in just one year, allowing you to obtain professional insurance and begin charging clients immediately for therapeutic support.

Hypnotherapy is also one of the most rapid forms of psychotherapy, often helping clients achieve significant results in just a few sessions. You can learn to support clients with a wide range of conditions and disorders, including anxieties, phobias, addictions, trauma, pain, emotional disturbances, and difficult behaviours. It can be tremendously rewarding to see clients transform old unhelpful patterns into new positive ways of living.

As a hypno-psychotherapist, you will learn and practice a wide range of techniques, not limited to hypnosis, including NLP, Emotional Freedom Technique, Eye Movement Desensitisation and Reprocessing and more.

Mindfulness Based Clinical Hypnosis (MBCH) Diploma

To be awarded the externally accredited MBCH Diploma, which will enable you to practice as a fully qualified hypno-psychotherapist, requires completion of 4 modules. Each module consists of 5 days of training, either in person, online or a blend of the two. Modules can be completed in any order.

Mindfulness Now Teacher Training

Including working with children and working in organisations

5 Day Immersive Practitioner Module & Stand-alone Qualification

Mindfulness is a scientifically evidenced approach to helping with many conditions, including anxiety, depression, stress and pain. Representing a convergence of ancient contemplative traditions, along with modern neuroscience, mindfulness is not considered to be a therapy, even though its effects are profoundly therapeutic. It is therefore taught or facilitated by a mindfulness teacher.

This course is our most popular, especially as it is available as a completely stand-alone and externally approved teacher training qualification.

This certified teacher training is approved by The British Psychological Society and includes specialist tuition in mindfulness approaches, including the Mindfulness Now Programme which offers a progressive fusion of key elements of Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) and Mindfulness Based Cognitive Therapy (MBCT).

Both are evidence based and the latter is recommended by the National Institute for Health and Care Excellence (NICE) for the prevention of relapse in recurrent depression, combining mindfulness techniques like meditation, breathing (mind and body awareness) with elements from cognitive behaviour therapy (CBT) to help break the negative thought patterns that are characteristic of recurrent depression.

The 'Mindfulness Now' programme is capable of being fully integrated into talking therapy practice. As with all our courses, we assume no prior learning, but attendees should naturally have some meditation practice in order to become an effective teacher.

A comprehensive training manual and additional materials, together with practical and written assignments is provided.

When you attend this training you will learn:

Cognitive Behavioural Hypnotherapy

Including the 'Quit 4 Life' smoking cessation programme

5 Day Immersive Practitioner Course

Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) is a vital cornerstone of modern psychotherapy with wide levels of credible research and proven success in overcoming behavioural difficulties. You will learn here how powerful hypnosis/CBT strategies can assist clients to overcome unwanted behaviours/habits, including over-eating and smoking.

This fully certified and accredited 5-day immersive course focuses on well tried and tested methods of assisting people to make powerful behavioural changes. The combined hypnosis/CBT models can be highly effective and all participants will learn to use them along with NLP and Emotional Freedom Technique (EFT) in a powerful combination which, for smokers, can often achieve complete success in as little as one single treatment session!

Smoking kills 120,000 people in the UK every year. Rates of smoking amongst 15 to 24 year olds are still amongst the highest in Europe (UK Government statistics). At today's prices, a 20-a-day smoker will spend over £92,000 on cigarettes over the next 20 years. Its small wonder that smoking cessation therapists can charge a substantial fee, should they wish, for their services.

Graduates of this training are able to register in The Hypnotherapy Directory and to become a licensed 'Quit 4 Life' specialist with access to resources, including the use of the registered logo.

A comprehensive training manual and additional materials, together with practical and written assignments is provided.
